Privacy Policy

By providing information to the ECI website, you are deemed to consent to the collection, storage, use and dissemination of this information as described in this ECI Privacy Policy.

By visiting the ECI website, you agree that our Privacy Policy governs your visit and any dispute regarding our online privacy practices.

Engineering Conferences International (ECI), a not-for-profit global engineering program that provides opportunities for the exploration of problems and issues of concern to engineers and scientists from many disciplines, is committed to maintaining robust privacy protections for its users. This statement provides information about the personal information that ECI collects from conference applicants and participants and the ways ECI uses that personal information.

ECI will employ all reasonable efforts to ensure that any personal information you provide will remain private and will be used only for purposes listed below.

A. COLLECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

ECI may collect and use the following types of personal information:

- Information that you provide when using our website for the purpose of applying for or registering for an ECI conference. This includes, but is not limited to, your name, affiliation, address, telephone, and e-mail address.
- Information about transactions (including credit card payments) carried out on our website.
- Any additional information that you send to ECI.

B. USING PERSONAL INFORMATION

ECI may use your personal information for the following purposes:

- Enable your access to and use of the ECI website services;
- Administer the ECI website;
- Publish information that you have submitted on the ECI website;
- Collect payments;
- Send you information about ECI conferences

If ECI finds it necessary to disclose your information to its agents for any of the above purposes, the agent is obligated to use the information in accordance with the terms of the ECI Privacy Statement.

In addition to the uses noted above, ECI may disclose your personal information if it is required by law to do so, in connection with any actual or prospective legal proceedings, and in order to establish, exercise or defend its legal rights.

C. SECURING YOUR INFORMATION

- ECI does not rent or sell our participant information.
- ECI will take reasonable organizational and technical precautions to prevent the misuse or loss of your personal information.
- ECI stores all personal information on our secure server.
- Encryption technology protects any information relating to electronic financial transactions entered into our system via our website.

D. INTERNATIONAL DATA TRANSFERS

As ECI conducts international conferences, the information we may collect may be processed, transferred and/or stored in or between any of the countries where we have conferences. The information that you submit for publication on the website will be published on the Internet and thus may be available throughout the world. As a condition for registration at an ECI conference, you agree to international transfers of personal information.
